

CARDINALS, WILL MAKE GOOD SHOW

Bresnahan Expects to Finish No Lower Than Fourth in Race.

New York, February 17.—When Roger Bresnahan bought the release of Pitcher Willis from the Pirates on Tuesday he predicted that the St. Louis Cardinals would finish no worse than fourth in the National League pennant race. Bresnahan has been very busy this winter pitching up his team, and now he says he is willing to stand pat. Roger insists that he has regained the use of his throwing arm and intends to catch as many games as possible this season. If he is able to carry out this plan the Cardinals will doubtless show additional strength. In Willis, Salter, Harmon, Halcigh, Higgins, Lush, Meltzer and Corridor Roger thinks he has a wealth of pitching material. He is also banking on a good infield, with Knebel, Hughes, Runsvitt, Barbeau, Mowry, Delehanty, and others. While he is sure that his outfield, composed of Oakes, Ellis, Evans and O'Hara, will compare favorably with that of any other team in the league.

Bresnahan has two capable backstops in Phelps and Ellis to help him out in case of accidents. President Robinson, of the Cardinals, believes that his team will more than divide the patronage with the St. Louis Browns this year, for the latter will undergo a complete reorganization under their new manager, Jack O'Connor, who will be compelled to try several experiments.

But as a matter of fact this will be a crucial year for Bresnahan in the mound city, where the fans were roasting him last fall because the Cardinals did not make a better showing. If his team displays improvement, all will be well and good, they say. But if there is a slump Roger may discover that his road is a rocky one. St. Louis has had so many baseball disappointments in recent years that the fans are unwilling to remain patient and are demanding quick results. Bresnahan has many friends here who remember him as a Giant and will root for his success.

Lynch Believes in Harmony. The factional fights among the National League magnates are growing tiresome. Thomas J. Lynch, the new president, believes in harmonious methods and will soon assert himself, no doubt. He is gradually learning the ropes and becoming familiar with the ways of the club owners. If the time ever comes when Lynch is able to exert the power with which Ban Johnson rules the American League, it is predicted that petty jealousies and animosities will be lacking in the business affairs of the National League. Baseball fans care very little for star chamber proceedings and bitter quarrels over trivial matters. For that reason they will be delighted when the ball

Jeffries to Train Near Los Angeles.

Jeffries, who has quit the vaudeville stage at last, announces that he will do his training near Los Angeles. He will arrive there in about a week, and intends to spend the month of March hunting in the mountains. Then he will begin light exercise and road work at the training camp, but he will not resort to strenuous methods until about the middle of May, or six weeks before the day when he faces Johnson in the ring. From reliable sources it is learned that Jeffries, stripped, weighs more than 200 pounds at the present time, in spite of his assertion that he is lighter. He will have to take off at least twenty pounds to be himself again, but he will probably do the work slowly. He is in splendid health and is as strong as a grizzly bear even now, but he admits that he will have to do a lot of hard work to enable him to remain in the ring more than three hours, if necessary. Jeffries, no doubt, intends to make a quick fight, if possible, but he will also prepare for a long drawn out battle, in view of Johnson's defensive tactics and his plan to tire out the boldermaker by keeping away. In a word, Jeffries will take nothing for granted, and does not intend to underestimate the negro champion. After the boldermaker has spent two months near Los Angeles fight experts think it will be possible to determine whether he can recover his former wind and stamina, or not. Four weeks in the mountains as a starter may give an excellent line on the big fellow's real condition.

STILL IN WRANGLE OVER THE SCHEDULE

New York, February 17.—After four days of endeavor, National League magnates were unable to-night to adopt a schedule for the coming season, and adjourned until to-morrow. Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia Club, who has been sick, ostensibly with gout, left, presumably for Philadelphia, Stanley Robinson, of St. Louis, and C. H. Ebbetts are also on the sick list.

President John Brush, of New York, was also ailing, and had to be assisted to the meeting.

Only one vote on the question of adopting a long schedule of 168 games or the short schedule of 154 games was taken. With the proxies of Fogel and Robinson, held by Charles W. Murphy, of Chicago, it was announced that the vote of yesterday was unchanged, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Boston favoring the short schedule, and the others holding out for the long list.

Heated arguments arose over the fact that both schedules assign six consecutive games to St. Louis and two to Chicago. Both Robinson and Murphy are insisting that there must be a change. This complicates matters so that it looks like a hopeless deadlock, with a possibility that the magnates may adjourn for two weeks to-morrow with the hope of effecting a settlement.

Baltimore, of the Eastern League, to-day sold Jim Maroney, the left-handed pitcher, to the Philadelphia Nationals. This makes seven "south-paws" the Phillies have on their staff.

Fogel's hasty departure for Philadelphia to-night came after four days' virtual imprisonment in his room. When President Murphy, of Chicago, heard to-day that the American League had voted a salary of $25,000 a year to Ban Johnson, he said:

"That's pretty hot press agent work." Dreyfuss said to-night that the National League magnates were acting like "a lot of jealous housewives," that it was "one grand fight over trivial matters" and that he was going home to attend to more important business.

President Lynch said to-night that he thought that after the season the national commission would pass upon the schedules, arranging dates that would work automatically year after year.

The team is now on a basis with the other athletic teams of the college, receiving its share of the physical culture fee for its support.

Jacksonville, Fla., February 17.—Racing at Monrovia was completely overshadowed by the announcement of P. T. Colonel Chinn, in speaking of his intended disposal, stated that he and his connections were over $200,000 loser to the meeting, with little hope of setting it back, and in the present chaotic condition of the American turf he has decided to cast his lot in France.

WESTLAKE RELEASED.

Tydemann Will Quit the Stage to Join Danville Club.

Danville, Va., February 17.—The manager of the Danville baseball club has released catcher William Westlake to the Wilson, N. C., club in order to reduce the surplus of catchers now under contract. Westlake, who is an experienced backstop, and has a good baseball head and an even temper, qualities especially desirable in a backstop, had made many friends in Danville during his stay here last season. Prior to coming here Westlake played with Lynchburg in 1908 season, and during the closing month of that season he was player-manager of the Shoe-maker, Manager McGeehan, of the Wilson team, will land a good man in Westlake.

The local club owners are not worried about Tydemann, and the rumor that he will stick to vaudeville. He belongs to the Tobaccoists and will almost certainly play. He will beyond doubt, if the owners can come to terms as to salary. Tydemann can make more money playing ball than he could in summer vaudeville, and it is expected that he will leave the diamond will draw him from the hot summer theatre boards to the open air life.

MOSER LEAVES FOR OAKLAND.

Star Lynchburg Pitcher to Play in Pa.

Lynchburg, Va., February 17.—Walter Moser, who pitched for the locals last year, and who was easily one of the leading slappers of the league, if not the real star of the circuit, will leave for the coast about February 27, to join the Oakland squad for training for the opening of the Pacific Coast League.

Moser has been teaching school near his home in Concord, N. C., and he will go to the coast in fairly good shape.

Moser's record of having shut the Richmond team out twice in an afternoon has been accepted as a stunt never before performed in professional baseball.

Manager Smith seems to have picked up a catcher in Fred Lucia, who will right after the heart of the Lynchburg catcher, for he is a man who can stand the strain of a strenuous season on the order of Ray Ryan, the crack backstop of last year's Roanoke Tigers.

Lucia is a seasoned player, though not an old man, for he is not yet thirty by several years. A few seasons ago he caught for Denver, in the Western League, a Class A organization, and he caught 140 games in the season. The Denver team played 145 games that season and Lucia caught all of them but one. He caught every game up to June 17 and dropped out on that day. On August 29, 30 and 31 he was out for four games, a doubleheader having been played on the 30th.

WANTS SATURDAY GAMES.

Norfolk: Not Satisfied to Have Old Schedule Adopted.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Norfolk, Va., February 17.—Maybe so and maybe not, Norfolk will probably have something to say about the schedule this year, and it may not be to Mr. Clark and the owners of the Norfolk club, who want more Saturdays at home, even if it interferes with the weekend games, which have been Richmond's since the league began. They claim that although Richmond had every Saturday at home last season and the Norfolk club had no games on holidays, while Norfolk had only Saturdays at home and the afternoon holiday games, the difference in the gate receipts between the two cities did not show well for the capital city.

The contention will be that it will benefit the league if Norfolk had no Saturday games. The argument may be strong enough to cause some of the other clubs to think the same way.

Winners of First Round.

Boston, Mass., February 17.—Barrett Wendell, Jr., of Boston, William Stockpole, of New York, and N. W. Cabot, of Boston, were the winners to-day in the preliminary round of the Amateur racquet tournament at the Tennis and Racquet Club. The match between Stockpole and Wendell, Jr., was the most interesting of the three played this afternoon. Five games being necessary to decide the contest. W. B. Barrett, Jr., of New York, was the winner of the first round. Barrett Wendell, Jr., in the first match of the day, but he was unable to maintain his lead. His opponent, N. W. Cabot, had no difficulty in defeating him. Barrett Wendell, Jr., of New York, was the winner of the first round.

Fast Man From Illinois University Secured by Manager Shaughnessy.

Roanoke, Va., February 17.—Roanoke will have Louis Cook for the season of 1910. This now seems to be a foregone conclusion. Negotiations between Cook and the Roanoke manager have been in progress for several weeks, and it looks to-day as if he will be one of the Tigers for the coming season. Having heard a great deal about Cook, fans will feel that in securing him the Roanoke club has a valuable find. He is from Quincy, Ill., and is a graduate of the University of Illinois. During his stay at that institution he played on the team and made a great record. In 1908, he managed the Rock Island Club, and he was with the Quincy Club in 1909. He is said to be an infielder of splendid talent, and when he comes to Roanoke he will probably quick one of the best.

He is a fast man, quick as lightning in the field, and at bat he is said to be a wonder. He is one of the most promising players in the country, and those who are familiar with his work predict for him a great future. That Roanoke should have succeeded in signing him is regarded as a lucky hit for Cook's playing will undoubtedly be a big factor in the pennant race. Cook has received flattering offers from other leagues, but he is coming here by preference. Vancouver wanted him, but a letter from him to-day, says that he will be with the Magic City.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

Carolina to Meet V. P. I. and Washington and Lee.

Chapel Hill, N. C., February 17.—Manager Stockton has given for publication his track team schedule as follows: March 21, Wake Forest at Chapel Hill; April 23, V. P. I. at Blacksburg; April 25, Guilford at Greensboro; April 29, Guilford at Washington and Lee at Chapel Hill. The latter date may be changed. Manager Stockton is corresponding with the University of Kentucky and hopes to arrange a meet with them at an early date in April. The work of putting the track team in good condition is progressing rapidly. Captain Williams, taking them on cross-country runs every afternoon. He expects to have the squad in excellent shape by the arrival of Coach Cartmel.

Big Four confess his years of duplicity and dishonesty.

Mr. Ingalls had decided to take a protracted trip abroad, but his illness prevented. He was confined in the house for several weeks, and even his intimate friends were denied admission to him. Few knew of the serious character of his illness or of its exact nature. Now he has virtually recovered the use of his limbs.

Found Dead in His Bed. T. J. Hankins, thirty years old, of 1437 East Franklin Street, was found dead in his bed, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Coroner Taylor did not consider an autopsy necessary, as Hankins was believed to have been a victim of heart failure.

Having remodeled our warehouses, Nos. 1436 and 1438 Franklin Street, and No. 122 North Fifteenth Street, opposite the Seaboard Air Line freight depot, we will remove from our branch office, No. 1426 East Main Street, about March 1st.

We will have greatly improved facilities for the prompt execution of any orders entrusted to us, and we have on hand the most complete stock of up-to-date agricultural implements and farm machinery to be found south of Baltimore. Particular attention will be paid to mail orders, and the continued patronage of our friends and the public generally is respectfully solicited.
